CHARLEY FLATO WEARY LAYS DOWN HIS OWN LIFE AS A SUICIDE

(Special to the Eagle.)

Kingsville, Texas, Nov. 30.—Charles H. Flato, Jr., one of the best known and most influential citizens of South Texas, is dead at his home here, the result of self-inflicted pistol shot through the heart. Flato had been in ill health for several months and only two weeks ago returned to this city from Corpus Christi, where he had been under treatment of specialists. His condition was considered better, but he had not yet assumed control of his many business interests here. The nervous strain had been too great, perhaps greater than he would admit, and more than his most intimate friends realized. His death came as a great shock to his family and thousands of his friends throughout all South Texas, Kingsville and Kleberg county. Business, social and church interests are the heaviest losers in the passing of this man. He was active in all that tended to develop city and county. He was vice president and general manager of the Kingsville Lumber Company and the Regland Mercantile Company, active vice president of Robert J. Kleberg & Co., bankers, president of Kleberg County Oil and Gas Company, active vice president Kleberg County Commercial Club, president of the local school board vice president and treasurer of Raymondville Lumber Company, director in the Corpus Christi Hardware Company, and connected in various ways with many other business and civic institutions of this city and elsewhere in this section of the state. Funeral will be held tomorrow. Deceased is survived by a wife and three children; father, mother, two brothers and a numerous other relatives. Mr. Flato had been president of the Kingsville school board ever since the organization of the town twenty-one years ago and had a list of every child born in that time and always sent each (about 1,000) gifts on their birthdays. He had kept this practice up for fifteen years.

Austin, Dec. 1.—President Obregon of Mexico stated today he would be unable to accept Governor Neff's invitation to be in San Antonio on December 7th to meet Marshal Foch. The message was received today at the governor's office here.

TABOR TO HAVE SHORT COURSE IN JANUARY

County Agent C. L. Beason is in receipt of a letter from the International Harvester Company stating that on account of what they have heard of the enterprising and progressive spirit in the Tabor community they have decided to include it in the schedule of short courses. These short courses are strictly educational, and any town or community is fortunate to secure a date for this great educational short course. Lectures of national reputation will be furnished to discuss such subjects as soils and soil fertility, the dairyman's problems, live stock, poultry on the farm, better rural woman's work in the community, the home—its furnishings and care, etc.

Mr. H. S. Mobley and Mrs. Bertha Dohl Law will appear on the Tabor program Friday and Saturday, January 27 and 28.

Mr. Mobley is a practical former dairy man of many years' experience, sees things from a farmer's viewpoint. A leader among community builders, national chairman at Washington of the farmers organizations, legislative committee during the discussion and adoption of such laws as the farm loan bank, parcel post and Smith-Lever bill.

Mrs. Laws is a home woman with a message for men, women and children whether they live in the country or in town. She has the ability to help others make her part on the program one of the best events that can come to any community.

Ten moving picture reels will be shown illustrating the proper solution of many farm problems. A rare treat awaits the Tabor people and all Brazos county who may be fortunate enough to attend this school course.

Letter to Mr. Beason.

Mr. C. L. Beason, County Agricultural Agent, Brazos County, Bryan, Texas. Dear Sir: We have been very much interested by your letter and the notes from Professors Ammons and Garnett respecting the enterprising Tabor community and on the strength of what you worthy gentlemen say we are going to include Tabor in the short course schedule—the dates will be Friday and Saturday, January 27th and 28th. Until final committee arrangements are made by Mr. G. W. Anstrand, our advance man, we are going to address all communications, concerning the Tabor engagement to you as the original submitter of their petition. You, in turn, can transmit the information to the proper parties. In the interim between the receipt of this letter and Mr. Anstrand's arrival, our suggestion is that no formal effort be spared to spread the announcement throughout every nook and corner of the Tabor country; to enable you to do this we are sending you a supply of literature. Our thought is that we might, also invite neighboring sections to participate in the meetings. We will probably never be in Tabor again and naturally we will have fallen short of our purpose if we fail to convince every physically sound man, woman and child that failure to attend constitutes a grievous error. It must be forgotten that Mr. Mobley and Mrs. Laws are part of our company for, literally, they belong, while in Tabor, to Tabor.

To your co-operation and to an exceptionally successful course, we look forward with the keenest anticipation. Yours very truly, INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY OF AMERICA. By J. A. Mahon.

BRYAN-COLLEGE ROAD WILL BE REPAIRED

The Bryan Eagle is in receipt of the following inquiry from College Station: "The College-Bryan road is in deplorable condition. It would be a shame to allow this road to be accepted as final in the present shape. When does the contract for maintenance expire?" The question has been fully investigated by County Judge H. O. Ferguson and Chairman D. L. Wilson of the highway committee of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce and the date is December 10, 1922, and it is understood the highway will be properly repaired before it is received by Brazos county.

PURPOSES OF BRAZOS COUNTY POULTRY ASSOCIATION GIVEN

The Brazos County Poultry Association has been organized with a view of promoting the breeding and raising of "Better Poultry and More Poultry" in Brazos and adjoining counties.

2. We expect to get these results by encouraging all those interested in such a program to become active members of the association, by holding monthly meetings of the association at which the different phases of the subject will be discussed by experts, by demonstrations in caponizing, scoring the different breeds, etc., also by actual comparison of the egg type or the bred-to-lay fowls with the non-productive types, also by noticing non-productive type; also by holding an annual poultry show, in which first class specimens of the recognized varieties will be on exhibition.

3. We propose to hold our next annual poultry show at the earliest reasonable date and in order to encourage the farmers of Brazos county to raise better fowls, we have decided to have what we are pleased to call an amateur class. In this class professional poultry raisers, those who have exhibited at the various poultry shows or those who have bought high class specimens for show purposes will not be permitted to compete. The president, superintendent and official judge to be a committee to decide as to the status of the exhibitor. We also propose to have a special class open for competition of members of the boys and girls poultry clubs of Brazos county. We propose offering cash or merchandise premiums to the winners in these two classes. In open competition to which all exhibitors will be eligible we propose offering ribbons as prizes. No entry fee will be charged to any exhibitor in any of the classes provided that no exhibitor has more than ten birds of any one variety. Above this number an entry fee of 25 cents per bird will be charged to exhibit. These rules as to entry fees and awards of premiums to apply to the forthcoming show only.

4. Every member of the boys and girls poultry clubs and every farmer in Brazos county, who has a distinct breed of fowls, is especially invited to exhibit a pen of them at this show, a pen to consist of one male and four females. The association will furnish coops and feed free and use all diligence in caring for the birds entered for exhibition. Exhibitors will be expected to comply with the show room rules. No premiums will be awarded to inferior specimens.

5. We propose further to arrange for culling demonstrations in ten different communities in the county.

6. To help arrange for a minimum of one hundred farmers getting a start in the production of standard bred poultry by assisting in securing for them a minimum of one hundred baby chicks of a standard breed or some other feasible plan such as the purchase of eggs from some standard breed or the purchase of pullets and cockerels of a standard breed.

7. To lend aid in the distribution of good poultry literature among the farmers of the county.

8. To help provide at least two community meetings each month in the rural districts, one of the topics to be discussed bearing on the poultry problems in that community.

9. To co-operate in the making of a survey of all poultry in the county.

10. To render aid in securing profitable markets for poultry products.

J. F. OATES, President.

W. O. SANDERS, Secretary.

RAIN FELL IN BRAZOS COUNTY.

A heavy wind and rain visited Brazos county during last night. This will be of inestimable value to farmers and land breaking will now be in full blast in a few days. County Agent Beason states that already much land has been broken for the 1922 crop in the Brazos bottoms.

The Eagle purchased about 1,000 Brazos county boll-weevil Monday and Tuesday from farmers of the county and these insects will be sent to the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Fort Collins, Colorado, for experimental purposes. J. Webb Howell of Bryan estimates and his figures are correct, that the boll-weevil is costing Brazos county millions of dollars and very little is being done to stop the disastrous ravages. Many people argue that the boll weevil is a blessing as it cuts down the production in cotton in Texas which would be about 6,000,000 bales instead of 2,000,000, but for the weevil and drought and flood conditions. We cannot see it that way. While the world needs cotton and is demanding clothing and our lands are not yielding over one-third of its productive power it seems strange that so much land should be given over to the boll weevil. If all other business was conducted on this basis (as the railroads have been) then wreckage would be total. The country cannot long allow a great industry to run on the inefficiency basis and not feel the disastrous effects. This permeates every line of business and means ultimate disaster. Brazos county needs about 25,000 bales of cotton where we are raising from 7,000 to 15,000 or cut down the present acreage to about double the present output. The present conditions are against the cotton producer and must be remedied in some way to make the business remunerative.

WEST FIGHTING WEEVIL.

Vernon, Texas, Nov. 30.—County farmers are beginning to back with vigor the fight locally against the boll weevil. Cleanup campaigns are being inaugurated in the various communities. Meetings are being held to stir up interest in the fight. The absence of timber in this section provides farmers with an immense asset in waging battle on the cotton destroyers. In the sandy land districts, however, flat breaking of the soil is practically impossible, and it is here that the weevil is fought with the most difficulty.

BRYAN DOKYS GO TO HOUSTON CEREMONY

The following Bryan men took the D. O. K. K. initiation in Houston Tuesday: P. A. Tardy, Henry Locke, C. C. Broden, Guy Boyett, T. H. Haltom, Geo. O. Turner, C. O. Watkins, J. R. Fair and Jeff Cole.

The Doky Imperial Glee Club will be in Navasota Friday night, December 2nd, and will show at the opera house there. They have a good organization and the members that went to Houston had a chance to hear them and can say they were great. One-third of proceeds go to them; one-third to Navasota Christmas fund; one-third to Pythian Widows and Orphans Home.

Chancellor Commander Guy Boyett asks all K. P.'s and families and all others that desire to, to go to Navasota and hear them. He promises them they will not be disappointed in the entertainment.

The D. O. K. K. full ceremony took place in Houston yesterday when two hundred Tyros crossed the hot sands. The parade was staged at 5:05 o'clock after which a chicken barbecue and banquet was held in the city auditorium. The initiation was also held in the same place. The Bryan K. of P.'s had a great time.

The girl was attacked last night and seriously injured. The negro was arrested and later jailed. The mob began forming this morning. DEATH OF MRS. ALICE JOHNSON AT WELLBORN

(Written for the Eagle.)

Wellborn, Tex., Nov. 28.—At 10 o'clock p. m. Saturday, November 19, 1921, the Angel of Death spread its wings over the home of Mrs. Jessie Royder and took from their midst the mother and now its sunshine is shut out for ever. Mrs. Johnson had been ill only a short time, she being stricken with paralysis while sitting in her chair reading made it doubly hard to bear. The physician and loving hands ministered to her, but to no avail, and at the hour stated her gentle spirit, as peaceful as a summer evening cloud, drifted away to its eternal rest. She was Miss Alice Dollins, born in Alabama, January 18, 1854, more than sixty-seven years ago.

April 16, 1879, she was married to Mr. D. P. Johnson at Martins Prairie, and to this union were born four children, Mrs. Jessie Royder and Mrs. John Dampier of Wellborn, Ben Johnson of Minter Spring and Grissette Johnson of Brownwood, all of whom were with her at the time of her death. And to those broken-hearted ones we faint would offer words of comfort, but the words turn to ashes on our lips, and we can but point to Him, who out of the compassion of His heart hath said, "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted."

The funeral was conducted from the home of her daughter with whom she made her home since the death of her husband four years ago, and interment was made at Wellborn cemetery near her husband and other relatives gone before. She was loved by all who knew her. She was ever ready to lend a helping hand in trouble. Only those who have drunk the dregs of life's bitter cup can have an adequate conception of the agony endured by those who have sustained the loss of a mother.

But in the darkest hour of affliction the hand of our Master draws aside the celestial curtain, and we see across the years when we shall join her in that city not made with hands. She has been a member of the Baptist church since a young woman.

A FRIEND.

CHINESE ARE STANDING PAT AGAINST JAPAN

Washington, Dec. 1.—Chinese arms conference delegation in direct negotiations on Shantung question will, according to the Chinese spokesman, proceed on the basis there is only two points and China is prepared to negotiate. These are Japan's demands that Tsingtau be declared an open port and that one vested interest be respected.

NO "CRIME WAVE" NOW IN BRAZOS COUNTY

Sheriff Morehead and Chief Martin report the criminal activities in Bryan and Brazos county at a very low ebb. There is no crime wave in Brazos county. There seems to be some mysterious force in this county standing against the invasion of criminals. During the circus crowds and great Thanksgiving crowds in Bryan Wednesday and Thursday of last week the usual pickpockets, burglars and highway men did not appear. In Austin at the Thanksgiving game in 1920 there were at least thirty robberies, while Chief Martin says perhaps there was one or two here. In fact the criminal element is passing Bryan up for some reason and the twenty special officers who had been appointed for circus day and football day had little to do. Our officers were on the job day and night and the Eagle congratulates them and the people generally.

BRYAN ROTARY CLUB WEDNESDAY LUNCHEON

Every member of the Rotary Club pledged himself to undertake to secure at least five members of the Red Cross before the roll call was completed on the 5th, at the luncheon Wednesday. The meeting was a splendid one.

Major Ike Ashburn explained to the membership the important work being done by the Red Cross in this county at the present time, and recited the fact that 1123 flood sufferers were assisted by the Red Cross in September in Brazos county, alone. Next year a health nurse is to be employed to assist in the county visiting all the schools in the city as well as the rural districts.

Sam E. Eberstadt was asked to make a talk, but Sam is a good Rotarian, and knows the bunch too well. He told them a story but refused to make a speech.

The club unanimously endorsed the weekly official publication, the "Merry Go Round," and ordered it continued. Mr. Terry of Beaumont was a guest of Rotarian M. L. Parker.

Those present were: President T. K. Lawrence, Secretary Oak McKenzie, Wilson Bradley, J. T. S. Park, E. E. McAdams, Tyler Haswell, M. L. Parker, Jno. M. Lawrence, D. E. Moore, R. W. Howell, Jno. A. COTTON FARMERS MUST GROW BETTER COTTON FOR MARKET

(Published by Request.)

Washington, Nov. 26.—The cotton seed crop of 1921 contains a larger percentage of seed that is of poor quality for planting purposes than is usually the case, according to information recently gathered by the bureau of markets and crop estimates. The premature opening of the cotton and the ravages of the boll weevil are the main reasons assigned for this condition. Many cotton seed dealers who carried over small or no stocks from the 1920 crop are finding it somewhat difficult to obtain well matured and highly germinable seed from this year's crop. However, several large growers and distributors held their supply of 1920 crop seed intact and these supplies are available for planting. On the whole, the quality of the 1920 crop seed for planting purposes, where such seed has been stored, is superior to that of the new crop.

More interest is being manifested in delinquent, reeling and grading cotton seed for planting purposes and several large growers and dealers are employing one or more of these processes this season in an effort to improve the physical condition of the seed and to raise the percentage of germination of their stocks. Data obtained by the bureau of markets and crop estimates indicate that where these operations are carried on judiciously in conjunction with each other and in the order named, a marked improvement in the quality of the seed for planting purposes is effected as a minimum cost.

Farmers After the Boll Weevil. Denison, Texas, Nov. 26.—Farmers in this district are co-operating in every way possible with the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee in eliminating the boll weevil. Formerly farmers around Denison waited until early in the spring to burn their fields and in many instances did not burn them at all, just turning the land and covering cotton stalks underneath. This year they have joined hands with each other and have begun to not only burn cotton stalks but corn, grass and weeds and in all cases sunflowers that are usually found along a roadside. The territory east of Denison to Red river has been burned thoroughly. And as far as possible not a bit of foliage is left unburned so determined are the farmers to make every attempt to get rid of the weevil.

AGGIES AND LONGHORNS IN GREAT GAME TO A TIE

For The Southwestern Championship The Two Texas Teams Fought To a Show Down on Kyle Field on Thanksgiving Day—A Great Game Witnessed By 20,000 People.

College Station, Texas, Nov. 25.—Texas A. and M. preserved their record of never being defeated by the Texas Longhorns on Kyle field Thursday when they battled their ancient rivals to a standstill, the score standing 0-0 when the referee's last whistle ended four periods of desperate and determined football. Thursday's clash, which marks the climax of football season in Texas, was tense, thrilling and truly worthy of the interest and importance attached to it by gridiron devotees of the Lone Star State. The Longhorns outplayed their rivals in the sense that they had the ball in foreign territory most of the time, but each time when a Longhorn score seemed imminent, the vaunted Aggie defense sprang and turned the battle back from the gates.

The final period was especially exciting. Texas carried the ball with rapid strides towards A. and M.'s goal, getting as far as the six-yard line, only to lose the offensive when an attempted pass went awry. The Aggies then displayed a flash of offensive strength and advanced from their 20-yard line back to midfield. The Longhorns then began another offensive, but were checked on the Aggies' 20-yard line. The Aggies punted out of danger. Both teams made desperate efforts to gain, trying the forward pass repeatedly, but without results. The game ended with the ball in midfield.

Neither team showed much strength at the start. Punting was frequent. Fumbles also were numerous. The second period saw Texas make its first offensive. They bore down on the Aggies' goal post, reaching the six-yard line before being halted. The Aggies kicked to midfield. Honors were more even in the third period.

Fourth Quarter—Watson went in for Elam and Miller went in for Captain Weir of A. and M. Early in the period the most spectacular play of the game occurred. On the Texas 45-yard line Geo. McCullough took a forward pass field for 42 yards, carrying the ball to the A. & M. 10-yard line. In order to make the catch McCullough had to leap high in the air. It looked like a touchdown for Texas, but the A. & M. line held like a stone wall and Texas lost the ball on downs. Sanders promptly kicked out of danger.

On the second play, another forward pass, Watson to McCullough, made 10 yards and the first down for Texas. McCullough made another beautiful catch. Stacy, on two plays electrified the stands with a gain of 20 yards off the A. & M. tackle. This placed the ball on A. and M. 20-yard line.

Stack attempted a place kick. It was short and was recovered by Murrah of A. and M. on the A. and M. 20-yard line. Sanders lost two yards on an end run from a kick formation. Sanders punted to the 50-yard line to Stacy, who returned nine yards. A forward pass, Watson to Stacy, was incomplete. Beasley replaced Miller for A. and M.

Watson was forced out of bounds on end run for a net gain of only two yards, although he actually ran 12 yards.

Another forward pass by Watson was incomplete. Stacy attempted a place kick while standing on the 50-yard line. It was knocked down by Keen of A. and M., but Texas recovered the ball on the Texas 33-yard line. Texas punted and recovered when A. and M. fumbled. It was Texas' ball on her 35-yard line.

Watson threw a long pass, which grounded, but A. and M. was penalized the length of the pass for interference. This gave the ball to Texas in midfield. After vainly trying to gain by forward passes, Texas lost the ball on downs in midfield. The game ended with the ball in A. & M. possession in midfield. Final score: A. and M., 0, Texas 0.

Fordson TRACTOR

'The Tractor will enable the farmer to work fewer hours in the day, giving him more time to enjoy life. I believe the tractor will make farming what it ought to be—the most pleasant, the most healthful, the most profitable business on earth'.

This tractor has done much—very much—in bringing true Mr. Ford's prophecy; for in it is a machine which has harnessed one of the most dependable, efficient, adaptable, economical sources of power in the world—a machine that saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmer's time—a machine which many farmers claim plows, harrows or drills as much ground in the same time as four, six or even eight horses. And more—a machine that takes care of every power job on the farm.

Call and let's talk it over, or telephone or drop us a card and we will bring the facts to you.

CONFERENCE HIGHWAY AND TRANSPORTATION

(By Associated Press.)

College Station, Texas, Nov. 25.—For arranging a conference of highway and transportation officials and engineers of the state and nation to be held at the A. & M. College of Texas sometime during the winter or following spring for studying the problems of highway construction, highway transportation and economics of same a committee with Dean J. C. Nagle, dean of engineering, as chairman, D. Scoates, professor of agricultural engineering and W. J. Emmons, professor of highway engineering as members has been appointed by President W. B. Bizzell. The decision to hold the conference and the appointment of the committee to work out the details of holding same was made upon recommendation of Dr. Walton C. John, secretary of the highway engineering and highway transportation educational committee of the U. S. department of education. His suggestion that the conference be conducted along lines of similar conferences held recently at the universities of Pittsburgh, Michigan, Minnesota, Maryland and Tennessee will very probably be followed. The program will include everything from the making of modern highways to vehicles that travel upon the highways and the things transported.

Although no definite plans have been worked out it is expected that there will be here for the conference officials of the United States office of public roads, officials of the state highway commission, county highway engineers, judges and commissioners and others. The fact that the A. & M. College of Texas is the pioneer institution of the state in encouraging improved highways makes the holding of the conference here particularly appropriate. As far back as 1903 Dean J. C. Nagle, who had then been head of the engineering school of the college since 1890, held a conference with the County Judge and Commissioners' Association in Tyler for a discussion of county road problems.

The division of highway engineering in the department of civil engineering was created at the college in 1910 and from that time until the creation of the state highway department several years later the professor in charge of the highway division of the college conducted extension work with the officials contemplating highway improvements and visited many sections of the state and advised such officials in the organization of districts, the issuing of bonds and the construction of roads. In the last two or three years of this week an assistant in the division devoted his entire time to this work, but his position was abolished after the establishment of the state highway department.

The Texas Engineering Experiment Station which was created at the college in 1914, and placed under the direction of Dean Nagle has issued thirteen bulletins dealing with the various phases of highway and pavement construction in the state. All these bulletins have been prepared by members of the staff of the highway division of the civil engineering department. About 30,000 copies of one of these bulletins entitled, "Benefits of Good Roads," and written by R. J. Potts, has been distributed. About one-third of the highway engineers now practicing in Texas received their training at the A. & M. College of Texas. The highway division is now giving courses surpassed by no undergraduate school in the country and for instruction has a highway laboratory unsurpassed by any other undergraduate school.

A serious accident occurred yesterday morning between Navasota and Houston, when the car being driven by Charles Stuart and a party of friends coming to Bryan to attend the football game, collided with a Ford roadster overturning both cars and breaking them both up considerably. Two Houston men, who were in the car with Mr. Stuart, and whose names could not be ascertained, were thrown violently from the car against a telephone post nearby, breaking the arm of one man and the leg of the other. Mr. Stuart was badly cut on the face and shoulder by glass from the shattered wind shield. The injured parties were taken up and carried back to their homes in Houston. A later message from Charles Stuart to his mother, Mrs. W. S. Stuart, stated that he was not as badly hurt as at first thought, and would get along all right.

AMERICAN LEGION DID NOT RIOT AT THE KANSAS CITY MEETING

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 1.—Since the American Legion convention adjourned here November 2, numerous stories have drifted back to Kansas City of rioting, lawlessness and destruction of property reported to have occurred here during the convention. Numerous inquiries regarding the alleged lawlessness have been made of the police department here, but interesting as the stories are, the police department has been obliged to deny all of them, according to Charles Edwards, chief of police, and Matthew A. Foster and John E. Wilson, Kansas City police commissioners. The records of the police department show, according to Chief Edwards, that no Legionnaires were arrested during the session of the convention.

"Two ex-soldiers who came here to attend the convention died," the chief said. "One of them committed suicide by taking poison, and one man died, several days after the convention, from pneumonia. He was a Canadian veteran and was buried with military honors. Nobody died from drinking wood alcohol or corn whisky, or any other sort of whisky, as far as we know, and we believe we know practically everything that happened. Property damage? It amounted to this: Eight or ten pillows belonging to a hotel were ripped open by enthusiasts one night, who wanted some artificial snow for stage effect. The feathers were thrown down into a hotel lobby and into the street. A fleet of trash cans placed on the streets was pretty thoroughly demoralized. Some celebrant, who had been waiting three years to express his delight that the war was over, got the idea it would be fun to drag a trash can at the tail of a taxicab. The idea spread. The casualties among the tin trash cans were heavy."

As a matter of fact according to the police commissioners, that abolition of spirits, comparable to what often happens after a college football game, was the only semblance of lawlessness which occurred during the convention. The crowds were large and noisy, but they did not destroy property or indulge in the drunken orgies with which rumor has credited them.

"We found, in almost every case of reported rowdism," Chief Edwards said, "that the persons responsible were not Legionnaires, or even ex-service men. They were local police characters, who took advantage of the big crowds to try 'rough stuff.' Several local petty gamblers, arrayed in uniforms they had bought themselves, and never earned the right to wear, started a gambling game. We broke it up the night of November 2, and they ran away so fast that several of them got caught in a revolving door in a hotel and badly bruised."

"One shooting scrape was reported, in a quarrel over an American flag. We found out that the 'patriotic veteran,' who received a flesh wound from his opponent, was not a veteran at all, but a casual tramp, who had never been in service, but was feeling over-patriotic."

"The police found the ex-service men their best aids in quelling what might have become disturbances. The soldiers and the 'buddies' seemed to get along very well. Perhaps one reason for that is that a considerable part of the present police force are themselves ex-service men," Chief Edwards was a major in the A. E. F. Commissioner Foster said that the number of accidents reported during the Legion week was below normal. One automobile was wrecked in a collision with a street car. No one was dangerously injured.

BRYAN SCHOOLS OBSERVE EDUCATIONAL WEEK.

American education week will be held December 4 to 10, 1921, under the auspices of the American Legion at the National Education Association in co-operation with many other organizations, religious, fraternal and civic. The main purposes of the week are to inform the public of the accomplishments and needs of the public schools and to secure the co-operation and support of the public in meeting these needs and to teach and foster good Americanism.

No service has suffered more from unintelligent criticism than schools. The average citizen does not read educational literature or accounts of teachers' meetings or visit schools to learn what they are doing. He has a conception of school only as he knew it in his own school days. American Education Week should give the taxpayers who furnish the funds for the public schools first-hand knowledge of the service for which they pay. Education cannot afford to neglect this opportunity to advertise its aims and purposes. It is the duty of all friends of education to think seriously and work hard on the problem of keeping the idea of public education before all the people."

A comprehensive program covering the entire week has been prepared for the Bryan City Schools. Some noted speakers, local as well as out of town men, will be heard.

QUARANTINE FARM AT A. & M. COLLEGE BEING CONSIDERED.

(Special to the Eagle.)
College Station, Texas, Dec. 1.—At the request of J. E. Boog Scott, chairman of the livestock sanitary commission, and other prominent breeders of purebred livestock, Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the A. & M. College of Texas, has under serious consideration the advisability of establishing at the college a quarantine farm for tubercular animals of unusual blood lines and merit. If this farm should be put into operation, it would likely be done in co-operation with the federal and state authorities who are engaged in this field of work, and the breeders who are having their herds tested for the federal accredited list. In order to make the federal accredited list an animal must pass two clear tests. All livestock raisers and workers throughout the state are interested in the control of this disease. Dr. Bizzell, in discussing the matter, said: "The problem of bovine tuberculosis has become so serious in the state that something needs to be done to safeguard many breeders from serious financial loss. The prevalence of tuberculosis in dairy cattle has already discouraged many dairymen. Unless something is done the livestock industry in this state is certain to suffer. It seems, therefore, that the college should take the initiative in the important work of preventing the great loss now being sustained as a result of destruction of many animals of great value that might be completely cured of this disease."

DR. MORGAN IS APPOINTED FOR GRAIN GRADING.

College Station, Texas, Dec. 1.—A course in grain grading, similar in the general outline to the course in cotton classing already included in the curriculum, may be added at the A. & M. College of Texas, in order to fit men for employment as licensed grain graders in the state. Plans were under consideration for offering the course beginning with the fall session in 1922, but on the recent recommendation of Charles E. Baughman, commissioner of markets and warehouses of the state of Texas, that the course be offered in the summer, it has about been decided to include such a course in the offering of the 1922 summer session. Dr. J. O. Morgan, professor of agronomy in the College, has been appointed by President W. B. Bizzell to arrange the details of the course and when established it will be included in the offering of his department. The course will be given according to federal standards. Standard grain samples will be secured from the bureau of grain standardization of the U. S. department of agriculture, to be used in the grading work.

Dr. Morgan is at present carrying on correspondence with the federal departments and with other institutions in the United States gathering information and data about such a course. In this way he will obtain knowledge of the work being given by other institutions and at the same time learn of the necessary equipment, cost of equipment and cost of the work that would be involved in the course and when all this is in hand he will be able to determine whether or not the college can stand the expense of giving the course. He will probably be able to make his final report to the president within a few days.

BLIND STAGGERS KILL MULES.

Three fine mules belonging to Geo. W. Foster, on his Brazos bottom plantation, died from blind staggers Wednesday and two other animals are fatally afflicted. Blind staggers seem to follow floods and in most cases prove fatal to mules or horses.

LIVED YEARS ON BREAD AND MILK

For More Than Decade Malady of Alabama Woman Was Constantly Sapping Her Strength.

Mrs. H. P. Barrett, of Republic, a suburb of Birmingham, Ala., gives the facts of her experience with Tanlac as follows:

"During the past fourteen years I have spent more than one thousand dollars trying to get rid of a complaint that was gradually sapping my strength, but until I got hold of Tanlac nothing helped me. For the past four years I have lived almost entirely on milk and bread, and finally even that went against me."

"Before I had finished the first bottle of Tanlac I got so I could eat anything, and I certainly bless the day I first got this medicine for I believe it has added years to my life. The people of my neighborhood were so surprised at the change in me that fourteen if them by actual count are now taking Tanlac."
